Unit -I

Resources

Learning Objectives

- To know the importance of resources
- To describe the renewable resources
- To understand the non-renewable resources
- To identify the fossil fuel resources

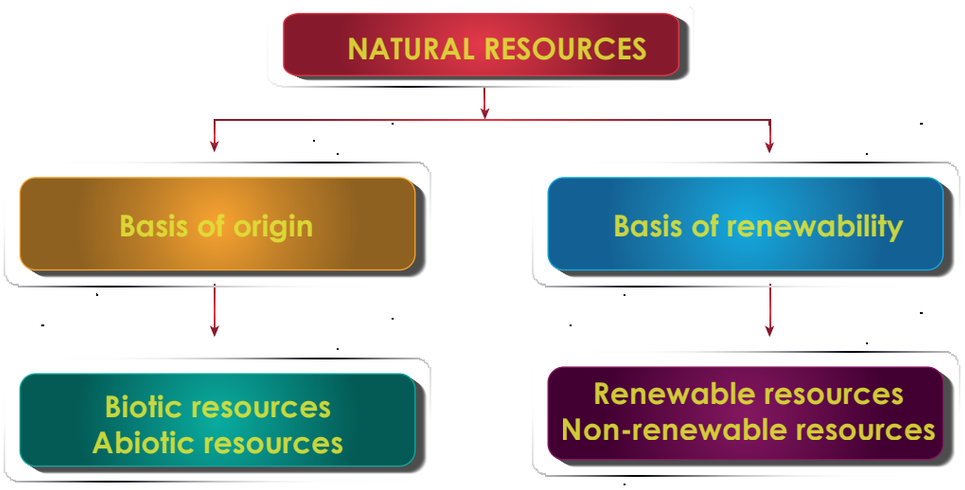

05JSR

Introduction

A country's socio, economic and political strength lies in the distribution, utilization and conservation of its resources. Anything which can be used for satisfying the human needs are called resource. Natural resources are resources that exist without action of humankind. Natural resources are obtained from environment. Many natural resources are essential for human survival. Resources always cannot be consumed in its original form, but they can be processed into usable commodities and usable things.

Importance of resource

- Natural resources satisfy are daily needs such as food, clothing and shelter.
- Natural resources also contribute immensely to boost up a nation's economy.

7th Social Science_Term_II_Geography_ Unit_1.indd 135 20/06/2023 18:19:48